...A Percussion Extravaganza!!!

On April 21, 2007, Fayette Middle School will host Jason Currin's Ultra Terrific Udu Xylorimba Tom Tom Gong-a-Thon, a unique event and the only festival of this caliber to take place in Georgia. On this day hundreds of percussionists along with all their friends and families will descend upon Fayetteville for a truly historical event that is sure to stay in the minds of everyone involved for years to come. We would like you to be among the first supporters of an event that will continue to bring together music students, educators and supporters year after year.

Do you support...

- Music and the arts?

Your contribution encourages the growth, expansion and appreciation of quality music programs in the school and in the community by introducing new possibilities and opportunities to schools and their students. Jason Currin's Ultra Terrific Udu Xylorimba Tom Tom Gong-a-Thon is a multicultural event focused on enhancing musical programs through the introduction of new musical styles, ideas, instruments and performance methods and techniques.

- Young people?

You have a chance to make an impact in a young person's life by providing musical opportunities not offered in regular band programs. This festival is a positive and educational activity that brings together the whole family, and rewards hard-working students with a chance to share their achievements with an audience.

- Community?

You have the opportunity to promote yourself or your business as an advocate of the arts and education in your community. Fayette County schools have a long tradition of musical excellence in the schools, and the area is home to many gifted percussionists. Without proper performance venues these percussionists will go unnoticed. This music festival is a forum designed to showcase the community's local performers while simultaneously creating a learning environment rich in talent and diversity to help propel students to the next level.

If these issues are important to you please show your patronage by supporting Jason Currin's Ultra Terrific Udu Xylorimba Tom Tom Gong-a-Thon. You and your company's staff will be recognized by your clients and the public as a leader, committed to music and arts education and its role in the community.

Where will your money go?

- Performers: airfare, hotels and compensation
- Clinicians and judges: top percussion educators to provide expert instruction and evaluation
- Instruments: rental and transportation of instruments
- Venue: facility rental and cleaning fees
- Audio/Video: technicians and equipment
- Printing: programs, tickets, certificates, publicity materials
- Prizes and awards

Are you in?

There are many ways you can help. Consider the values and resources held by you and your company. We will gladly accept charitable donations in any amount.

We have also designed several sponsorship packages as our way of saying “Thank you” for your contribution. Please choose the one that suits you best. We will gladly entertain your requests and ideas.

For those who would like to advertise in our program you may purchase ad space in our festival program which will be distributed free of charge to all festival attendees.

The festival will feature an exhibit hall free for everyone to visit during the festival. This will be a space for industry vendors to set up merchandise both for display and purchase. This will also be an ideal opportunity for colleges to introduce their schools and programs to talented prospects from across the state. Please refer to our rate sheet for more information on booth space and advertising.

As a festival supporter you and your company have a wonderful opportunity to raise your profile within the greater-Atlanta area. Show your support for new and positive initiatives that promote the arts and education in an environment that reconnects family and community.

Please make your donations in the form of a check payable to

Fayette Middle School - Percussion
450 Grady Avenue
